

Opposite Southwold armchair in brodie raisin, £700, Laura Ashley. This page, clockwise, from top left Directoire hall cupboard, £1,790, Grange. Small hanging lamp, £12.50, Quintessentially English. Throws, from top: Roslin Plaid in olive green, £68/m; Sutherland in green, £74/m; Tay Stripe in beige, £66/m; Cushion: Lewis Plaid in red/green, £66/m, all Colefax and Fowler. Footed French cups, £10.50 each, Dibor.

“When noon is past – there is a harmony in autumn, and a lustre in its sky”
 ‘Hymn to Intellectual Beauty’ (1816), Percy Bysshe Shelley

