

Dear reader

Subscribe to Period House today and you will enjoy a whole host of benefits, plus you will receive your gorgeous free gift from Quintessentially English worth £20!

Period House subscribers benefit from...

- Free delivery to your door every month
- Receive your issue before it goes on sale
- Superb value for the whole year
- Avoid any future price increases

Happy reading,

Charlotte

Charlotte Barber, Editor

A subscription to Period House makes the perfect gift!

Free gift for new subscribers*

Period House has teamed up with Quintessentially English, based in the National Trust village of Lacock in Wiltshire, to offer 30 new subscribers the chance to enjoy these wonderful handmade organic soaps. Brighten up your bathroom with a selection of Lemon, Rose, Lavender and Buttercup soaps all decorated with individual hand-picked flowers.

Quintessentially English was founded by designer Jacqui Sheard whose vision was to supply handmade beauty products and alternative medicines in beautiful and unique packages. Many of the products are based on old world remedies using English wild flowers and herbs.

Quintessentially English produces and stocks products, both traditional and contemporary, and has filled the shop with a selection of must haves – ideal for presents or special treats, ranging from soaps and creams to rustic lanterns, candles, cushions and zinc-ware watering cans! To find out more about the current range of products, visit www.quintessentially-english.co.uk or telephone 01249 730100.

SUBSCRIBE TODAY BY POST,
CALL 01778 392021 OR VISIT www.essentialsubscriptions.co.uk
AND QUOTE PH0607

* Please allow 60 days after the closure of this offer for delivery of your gift. Subject to availability. Offer ends 31st May 2007.

Quintessentially

Dear reader

Subscribe to Period House today and you will enjoy a whole host of benefits, plus you will receive your gorgeous free gift from Quintessentially English worth £20!

Period House subscribers benefit from...

- Free delivery to your door every month
- Receive your issue before it goes on sale
- Superb value for the whole year
- Avoid any future price increases

Happy reading,

Charlotte

Charlotte Barber, Editor

A subscription to Period House makes the perfect gift!

Soul Warmer gift offer for New Subscribers.

This month Period House, in association with Quintessentially English, are offering the first 30 new subscribers the chance to enjoy this Soul Warmer gift box worth £20.

Protect against the elements with a nourishing night cream, made with vitamin E and wheatgerm, a soothing honey lip balm with chamomile and some handmade organic soul warmer soap with the wonderful aroma of clove and orange.

Quintessentially English was founded by designer Jacqui Sheard, whose vision was to supply handmade beauty products and alternative medicines in beautiful and unique packages.

Based in the National Trust village of Lacock, in the heart of England's west country, Quintessentially English produce and stock products both traditional and contemporary.

Many of the products are based on old world remedies using English wild flowers and herbs. The shop is a great place to find unusual gifts, or simply must-haves, ranging from wonderful soaps and beauty products to cushions, candles, jewellery and accessories for the home and garden.

To find out more about the current range of products, please visit www.quintessentially-english.co.uk or telephone 01249 730100.

SUBSCRIBE TODAY BY POST, CALL 01778 392021 OR VISIT www.essentialsubscriptions.co.uk AND QUOTE PH1207